All Around the World

Souljahz

We're here to let you know no matter where you go

The language of love is spoken all around the world

Open up your eyes, let God change your mind

As everybody unites all around the worldC'mon and dance with me, move ya hands with me

Erase the colors of hate all around the world

Don't let the snake get ya just let the world hit ya

And take the sword with ya all around the worldWe could hold hands and pray put a smile on your face

'Cause you don't never know

You could be gone today

You could be gone todayLet's join hand and sing this all around the world

Here's your chance, c'mon every boy and girl

Let's unite around the world, God made us all to love each other

C'mon everyone, everyone all around the worldWe're here to make you see, how it's supposed to be

With all the love inside we don't know how to share it no, no

Open up your heart make a brand new start

Join the fiesta goin' down all around the worldYo, we the Souljahz thought I told ya
