

Rich Man

Tinpan Orange

He can buy the love he needs
Opens doors with all his keys
Takes you where the people know
Wear it like itâ€™s yours to own

Lady, when a rich man comes
Take your breath away
Burning like a million suns
Lady, walk away

Sleeps so deeply every night
Watch him like a firefly
Wonder where heâ€™s been all day
His hands are clean but he wonâ€™t say

Lady, when a rich man comes
Take your breath away
Burning like a million suns
Lady, walk away

He held me like a butterfly
In Venice where the gutters shine
Think of him â€™most every day
Itâ€™s not love, itâ€™s a quiet pain

Lady, when a rich man comes
Take your breath away
Burning like a million suns
Lady, walk away

Barking dogs donâ€™t make a sound
You put your lover in the ground
The big old house it echoes more
Now he wonâ€™t show up at all

Lady, when a rich man comes
Take your breath away
Burning like a million suns
Lady, walk away

Lady, when a rich man comes
Burning like a million suns

Lady, when a rich man comes
