It'll Be Easier In the Morning

Hothouse Flowers

If the lonely night surrounds you
Yeah you're weighed down by gloom
No you don't like what it feels in
Your dark and dirty roomIt'll be easier in the morning
It'll be easier in the day
Sun will shine on though your window
We got light to lead the wayLooks like the bottle has run empty
Yeah your heart is torn and dry
Lord you don't like what it feels like
Your sad and lonely eyesLooks like the highways never ending
Yeah your legs they feel like lead
Lord you're twisting yeah and turning
In your wide and lonely bedIt'll be easier in the morning etc.Looks like you got no one you can talk toNo one left to talk toAnd your heart is torn'n'blue
Yeah you look in no directionNo direction...I guess these words might pull you through
