

I Need A Disguise

Belinda Carlisle

Oh yeah
There's a mask on the wall
That I should be wearing
To keep you from seeing
How I'm really feeling
I'd like to be cool and tell you goodbye
(I think you better run now)
I've been such a fool and now it's written all over my face
That I'm about to cry
I need a disguise, to hide my love
I need a disguise you've seen too much
I fall apart when you touch me with your eyes
I need a disguise, oh baby, I need to get wise, oh baby
I know just where you're going
And I know who you'll be seeing
If I swallow all my pride
There'll be nothing left of me
And I'm so confused, It can't be denied
(I think you better run now)

Either way I lose
And it's written all over my face, how I hurt inside
I need a disguise, to hide my love
I need a disguise, you've seen too much
I fall apart when you touch me, with your eyes
I need a disguise, oh baby, I need to get wise, oh baby
And I'm so confused, It can't be denied
(I think you better run now)

Either way I lose
And it's written all over my face, how I hurt inside
I need a disguise, to hide my love
I need a disguise, you've seen too much
I fall apart when you touch me, with your eyes
I need a disguise, oh baby, I need to get wise, oh baby
Need a disguise, need a disguise to help these tears
Need a disguise to help these tears
Need a disguise to help these tears
Need a disguise, need a disguise, need a disguise
Need a disguise, need a disguise to help these tears

Need a disguise to help these tears
