

The Worst Is Yet To Come

Motion City Soundtrack

Such a little time has passed since you went away

Where are all these heartaches coming from

I can hardly stand the pain of missing you today

And I know the worst is yet to comeIf there was something I could find to drive these tears from me

Then I'd go right out and get me one

I've already cried enough to fill the deep blue sea

And I know the worst is yet to comeThere'll be all those sleepless nights when I'll just lay and cry

And the hours seem to have no end

There'll be days when it won't matter if I live or die

Wishing I could have you back againIf there was something I could find to drive these tears from me

Then I'd go right out and get me one

I've already cried enough to fill the deep blue sea

And I know the worst is yet to come
