Low Point

Trespassers William

I've been scared, not like this You lose things, I lost it Just please reach from somewhere My heart's done, it's too scaredI've never wished this before now If I said I did I'd take it all back You have to go all the way To know where it is, all the way downYou know what you'd stop for When you're running from your worst fear But you need it, now I'm fading This is what I'd like to lay inI've never wished this before now Now I know all the long steps down This time my eyes close like this I know my last thoughtsI know my last wish To not be wishing To not have broke this To feel what I'm missingSomehow I broke it I only know breaking And what I want to lie in nowI've never wished You have to go all the way
