Anything You Like

Elysian Fields

You can lift that tremble right between my eyes
You can study deep tongues 'til your'e blind and wise
You can slide into the earth
And you can witness your own birth
You can brush the shadow's kiss
And you can scratch your wildest itch
While I'm alive I will awaken you
While I'm alive you will awaken
You can do anything you like
You can plant the dagger of destiny
You can taste the spine that's you and me
You can sing the bitter temple song
You can be the sound or bang or gong
You can trace patterns in the sky
And you can ride the angels where they fly
I will awaken you
While I'm alive you will awaken
You can do anything you like
