The Darkest Red

The Agony Scene

I bleed this blasphemy, this sin that courses through my veins. It burns beneath the scars of my decay. This suffering, These fingers claw against my flesh. I pray for this touch that takes away my breath. I pray for death.
this is my final breath, the choking end of misery. My walls collapse. I pray for death. This is my final breath.
Peel back the flesh to watch it bleed. The Darkest Red. I pray for death.
We share this suffering. One open wound, a whispered cry. It breathes in me. Draining the life from the inside.
In ecstasy exposing my flesh to darkest red. I can't resist this touch that takes away my breath. I pray for...
this is my final breath, the choking end of misery. My walls collapse. I pray for death. This is my final breath.
Peel back the flesh to watch it bleed. The Darkest Red. I pray for death.
Feel me, Breathe me, Bleed me. I beg you this is my final breath, the choking end of misery. My walls collapse. I pray for death. This is my final breath.
Peel back the flesh to watch it bleed. The Darkest Red. I pray for death.
