

Maker of Love

Raheem DeVaughn

I think I can speak for all men when I say
There's something exceptional, unique
About a woman Your cold, big smile
Those pretty brown eyes
Like heaven smooth skin
Your hair in the wind
That lives in those hills
That switch all in your weapons
That sexy way you talk girl
Like a DaVinci painting art girl
And I, if I can make you with a magic wand
I will make you no other got away
And who's made by the maker of love?
You was made by the maker of love
Baby listen I said I wouldn't change a thing
I want you, couldn't have you, no, ever kind away
Who was made by the maker of love?
You was made by the maker of love Your body that curve
Your hips in that skirt
The smell of a fragrance
Or a taste of sweetness
The passion, the thrill
Goose bumps and the chills
Thy wish is thy will
And I'll do anything for you
See when it comes to you
See I love how you make you
And I wouldn't change one thing
And who was made by the maker of love?
You was made by the maker of love
See I, if I made you
I wouldn't change one thing
Who was made by the maker of love?
You was made by the maker of love From head to toe
You were made for love
You were made for me, made for me
You were made from a spark
To light up the world
With a man to cherish

To have and to hold
Save forever for now
See that's why I say now Who was made by the maker of love?
You was made by the maker of love
See I, I wouldn't change one thing
Who was made by the maker of love?
You was made by the maker of love
See I, I know you were you're telling me
Made by the maker of love
You was made by the maker of love
You was made by the maker of love
Love, love, love
Made by the maker of love
Who was made by the maker of love?
You was made by the maker of love
Love, love yeah
Maker of love
Who was made by the maker of love?
You was made by the maker of love
