Burn Masculinity

The Spook School

And I'll never be, as strong as my mother / maybe, it's just not on the male side / And I'll never be as sensitive as my brother / It's just not within meSo I should burn burn burn burn...And I've got to accept that I've inherited a history of persecution and abuse And I've got to accept that I'm inheriting a privilege that I should be aware ofSo I should, burn burn burn burn masculinity...what good has it ever done?It made you think that you could go on insulting her and then apologise when her boyfriend walks in It makes us think that it's okay to still have marriage when there's no way you can own a living beingSo we should, burn burn burn burn masculinity...there's nothing it gives to us

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/