Machine People

Ilse DeLange

You can't hide the darker side of you
You can't disguise a lie, and call it truth
You neglect responsibility
And sacrifice your dignity
You do it all so shamelesslyTour motivation is your bottom line
Its not enough to take what's yours
You take what's mine
Your religion is kind of funny
It seems you worship money
Heartless and mechanical soulMachine people
Industrial disease
Machine people
Is it worth loosing your humanityI'm almost glad that I found out
What you've become, I can live without
Was I just to blind to see
Your lack of morality
It's painfully obvious nowMachine people
Industrial disease
Machine people
Is it worth loosing your humanityA perfect state of mind
Takes a little time
And a sense of wrong and right
Let our conscience be our guideMachine people
Industrial disease
Machine people
Is it worth loosing your humanityYou can't hide your darker side
Can't disguise a lie
Neglect responsibility
