When I'm Through Fallin' Apart

Rhonda Vincent

What I need tonight is a shoulder to cry on
Just hold me 'til the heartache's through with me
Maybe we can build a new love from the ashes
But first I've got to burn some memoriesWhen I'm through fallin' apart, put me together
I'll give you all the pieces of my heart
When I tell you not right now, I don't mean never
Just wait until I'm through fallin' apartThere's something in your eyes and in the way you hold me
That says you want to be more than a friend
I can't wait until that final tear has fallen
So I can give my heart to you to mendWhen I'm through fallin' apart, put me together
I'll give you all the pieces of my heart
When I tell you not right now, I don't mean never
Just wait until I'm through fallin' apart
