so I just be waiting for the day you try to baptize me your kiss.every word 'cause your love is so religious.

The more I get to know you I hope and pray to Everyday do whatever's righteous and true

'cause your love is so religious

And Babygirl don't you know I worship the ground that you walk on, live by yourI wanna thank your father for making you on that day

Now in my heart I know for certain without an ounce of doubt in my mind.
