Hudson Henry

We come alive at night
Like neon lights
We are the sound underground
That burns so bright
Don't keep the peace
The surface speaks
We wait patiently
The rise and fall of a sturdy wall
Lets us break freeWe will break this down
Take this for ourselvesI'm so addicted
To this new noise
This world is ready
For a brand new voice
I'm so addicted
To this new noise
This world is ready
For a brand new voiceHallow mouths with no sound
Behind the face
They play the part
To steal hearts
Without a traceWe won't drown
Never break the sound
We believe that this machine
Will try to kill us firstI'm so addicted
To this new noise
This world is ready
For a brand new voice
I'm so addicted
To this new noise
This world is ready
For a brand new voiceTake these wires away
For a new beautiful day
Can we outrun our fate?
Take these wires away
For a new beautiful day
Can we outrun our fate?I'm so addicted
To this new noise
This world is ready
For a brand new voice

I'm so addicted
To this new noise
This world is ready
For a brand new voice
