

Tomorrow I May Not Feel the Same

Gene Chandler

so you think that I'm a fool and you told your friends that I'm stuck on you well, just for the record, let me set you straight do me wrong and I'll put you down girl I wouldn't even hesitate I'm in love with you but no more changes am I going throughstop playing foolish games or tomorrow I may not feel the sameI see where you're coming from coz I'm nice to you you think I don't Don't mistake kindness for weakness I know all the things you're not If you still think your game is strong girl, well, it's not all that hot you better act like you're for real before you blow a real good dealstop playing foolish games or tomorrow I may not feel the samei know you're fooling around you see because your friends they keep being in touch but couldn't you be a little bit more discrete or am I asking you for much too much you see the pain and the hurt is getting stronger I can't take it too much longerstop playing foolish games or tomorrow I may not feel the same
