Case

Anna Aaron

Set a fire set my heart hit me like alarm
when they love their slow love it hits me so hardI fell upon a rocket
high on its side
we had already cried
enough, enoughlisten angel to the still slow words we say
my birds flies
she blinds my eyes
but i can't look awayI fell upon a rocket
high on its side
we had already cried
enough, now it's time to get up
