

She's All That

Hollywood Ending

I'm in love with the Geek, the freak, the girl that never wins, So what, so what I'm in love with the weird, the wild, her rip jeans in her pants, so what so what She's doesn't listen to the radio, but she sings along at all my shows
I'm in love with the Geek, the freak, the girl that never wins, So what, so what So what is she's no beauty queen, or the captain of the winning team
She's on the side lines living her own life and having a good time
So what if she's not popular, never made it as head cheer leader
She's on the side lines living her own life and having a good time (She's all that) She's not the same, the lame, mean girls parody, so what, so what She'll dance in the rain all day no matter who's lookin, so what, so what But She's not the same, the lame, mean girls parody, so what, so what
So what is she's no beauty queen, or the captain of the winning team
She's on the side lines living her own life and having a good time
So what if she's not popular, never made it as head cheer leader
She's on the side lines living her own life and having a good time (She's all that) We could live happily ever after all the girls in the world don't matter
She's the one, she's the one I'm after
So what is she's no beauty queen, or the captain of the winning team
She's on the side lines living her own life and having a good time
So what if she's not popular, never made it as head cheer leader
She's on the side lines living her own life and having a good time (She's all that)
Oh yeah, She's all that, Oh yeah
