

Get Up Again

Flaw

Here we go again A very temperamental process
Beginning with all of our excess
Affecting our very own ingest
The side of you is speechless Overwhelmed with in an abscess
Creating new diseases
And infecting whomever it pleases
We've been living this way for too long now, too long Then I noticed a difference
In the way that I saw other insects
Who were living a life of indulgence
Sheltered by their parents Such an unlucky existence
Not given a chance to experience
And make their own decisions
I wouldn't trade my own mistakes at all Reach out your hands
Out for the ones who
Aid when the going gets rough
Until the end These are the ones who
Help when the times get tough
And times will get tough Get up again
Times will get tough
Get up again Here it comes once again Just reach out your hands
Out for the ones who
Aid when the going gets rough
Until the end These are the ones who
Help when the times get tough
And times will get tough Get up again
Times will get tough
Just get up again
