Beyond the Hourglass

I Am Ghost

Soon the stage enacts the fallen stars
Used in pictures in this page of our beating hearts
I've made peace with God and burned the sage
And drank from poison lake
Soon the stage enacts the fallen starsSave us from all the evil that we do
Tonight we're ghosts
I've fallen down but never give up
Create what was left behind, it was youBeyond the hourglass, and a hundred years have passed, buried in stone
My heart still beats outside this Please put the final nail into this coffin
Ten-century has closed
Remember me as you are rebornSave us from all the evil that we do
Tonight we're ghosts
I've fallen down but never give up
Create what was left behind, it was youCan you remember?
Lie close to me, my breathing won't last long
My hands of bone will feel your touch, tonight we sit and remember
Soon the stage enacts the fallen stars
Used in pictures in this page of our beating heartsSave us from all the evil that we do
Tonight we're ghosts
I've fallen down but never give up
Create what was left behind, it was youDies irae, dies illa
Lacrymosa qua resurget ex favilla
Quantus tremor est futurus
Iudicantus, homo reus ergo parce(A day of wrath, that day
Weeping shall rise again from the embers
What trembling will there be
The guilty man to be judged, spare him)

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/