

What's It Gonna Be

Brian Mcknight

We've been here once or twice before
In the fire between is and what will be
My desire for you is two months strong
And I'm ready for what tonight might bring I aim to please, baby give it to me
I've been holding back these feelings for so long So tell me you don't have to go
Tell me you don't have to leave
I know you want me as much as I want you
So tell me what's it gonna be I've been open for you from day one
Fantasizing about all the possibilities
Anticipation has got me comin' undone
You're about to see a different side of me I aim to please, baby give it to me
I've been holding back these feelings for so long So tell me you don't have to go
Tell me you don't have to leave
I know you want me as much as I want you
So tell me what's it gonna be Tonight's the night, love light in flight
Nice 'n' slow Tokyo, let it flow
No regrets, soft and wet, don't forget
Ribbon in the sky IGY in the air tonight
Superstar wanna be where you are
Oh, then let's do it again So tell me you don't have to go
And tell me you don't have to leave
I know you want me as much as I want you
So tell me what's it gonna be
What's it gonna be? What's it gonna be? Tell me you don't have to go
Tell me you don't have to leave
I know you want me as much as I want you
So tell me what's it gonna be
