Wait for the chances of love
Spend every friday at home
Watch days go by
Burning desiresIt's not your fault
You get what they want
Wait for the chances
Take a year offGive them more answers
But from above
Try for a week
Pay to retire
Faith can go wrong
Looking so tired
And know that you can
But see if you can
To leave all your friends out there
And know that you can
But see if you can
To cancel your friends instead
Wait for the chances of love
Spend every weekend at home
Watch days go by
Burning desires
It's not your fault
You get what they want
And know that you can
But see if you can
To leave all your friends out thereAnd know that you can
But see if you can
To cancel your friends instead
