

The Lily

Layla Zoe

If I should die before you wake pray the lord my soul to take, take me away, the music plays do not cry do not shed a tear I lived my life without fear please do not morn me now just hold my fire in your hands and in your heart and remember my song goes on angels were singing dance and sway blues on my funeral song please place the lilies on my stone and remember my song goes onspread my ashes on the west coast get together and tell some jokes make some music for me now been around this old world and friend please do not cry for me just let me go and hold my fire in your hands and in your heart and remember the song goes on angels were singing dance and sway to the blues on my funeral day please place the lily on my stone and remember my song goes onlook for me in the open sky feel me close in the moonlight do not be afraid hold me close in tallest tree hear my whisper on the ocean breeze I will always be there
just hold my fire in your hands and in your heart
and remember my song goes on angels were singing dance and sway to blues on my funeral day please place some lilies on my stone and remmber my song goes on ummm remember ummm remember the lily remember the lily and let me go remember the lily remember the lily
remember the lily and let me go
remember the lily remember the lily remember the lily let me go....

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>