Grazes

Sneaker Pimps

So did the sympathy for me start to fade
When your conscience is down, a fix paranoia scars when a needle
So did you ever see the north get so gray
Swallows me up, hollows the language in my last lowsSo which fucking ape is on you today
That what's my head wakes up and says when I crumble
Early aim to suffocate and blame, you gave less than you tried to possess
All the greatest nothing that I need, if you can't face the grazesI can't face the grazes
I cannot contain this
I can't fake the traces
I can't fake the grazesSo the fever that I got stole my name
It opened me up it twisted my bones now I'm nothing
I knew the second time that I saw your face
The city lit up it's bleeding its gifts now I'm sinkingJust another lonely box beneath her bed
A mark on her back a bruise in her head
Had she fallen, had she fallen
That is what she wished she had saidTo traces of time was riding her spine, was it worth it?
Early aim to suffocate and blame
You gave less than you tried to posses
All the greatest nothing that I need, if you can't face the grazesI can't face the grazes
I cannot contain this
I can't fake the traces
I can't face the grazes
