Nate Sallie

I've been watching from the outside for too long
Running away from where I belong
Seeing the same old song and dance
Song and danceYou've been running on the inside for so long
Waiting to be where You belong
Drawing me closer to the great romance
The great romanceMercy is knocking at my door
Yours is a love I can't ignore
The fight for my life was only
Before I was ever bornI, I feel You breaking through in everything I do
I feel my soul renewed
My, my mark is clear and new, Your words are coming true
Everywhere I move You're breaking through, yeahI've been living in the shadows of years gone by
Under the mask of my own demise
But You won't let me just fade away, fade awayYou've been walking off them pages of stories told
Coming alive like I've never known
Piercing my heart with all You say, all You sayI've never known this love before
Shooting through my veins, I want more
Strict me up everything
But the one thing I adoreI, I feel You breaking through in everything I do
I feel my soul renewed
My, my mark is clear and new, Your words are coming true
Everywhere I move You're breaking through, yeahEvery day I wake up to the sound
Of angels singing out their song
Heaven's pouring out its gloryWon't You please ruin me
For a life ordinary, yeah
All I see is Your holy covering
Moving over meAnd I, I feel You breaking through in everything I do
I feel my soul renewedI feel You breaking through, yeahEvery day I wake up to the sound
Of angels singing out their song
Heaven's pouring out its glory, yeahI feel You
I feel You breaking
I feel You breaking through
