

Unrequited Love

Chasing Victory

So write it down in lover's blood
There's gotta be a better way to break this spell
Send out a search party have you forgot how to love or how to die
I see the crosses behind your eyesWhen will the fire burn out
Is it after we've covered our tracks
I'm not going to stay to find out
He never asked for muchIf the fire burns out will it ever light up again
It's been so long since I've seen your eyes this cold
When did you let them step in
When did you let them take controlSo sound the alarm
There's gotta be a better way to break this spell
Tell the whole world that I left without his love
At the chiming of the bellsI've been dreaming of elaborate schemes
Thought the love was good for a while
It's been much easier to leave
I've got a new life nowThis couldn't have come at a worse time
I guess you had to find out about this
Unrequited love that I deny you say you fell out of love
Well, I call this abandonment
