Miracles

Do you close your eyes and stop for a minute just to imagine a scene?
Come take a walk and see yourself standing in a beautiful garden serene,
See the vibrant rose as it comes to life; see the orchids white like snow.
A breath-taking picture perfection beyond your dreams

One closer look- catch every detail, explore every petal with care
A dazzling array of countless bright colours, each shade is special and dear
And when the softest streams flutters to the ground to awaken a sleeping world
Now the secret of its beauty is soon unfurled

Thereâ€™s this feeling that takes hold of me
As Iâ€™m drawn into this picture into this scene
And suddenly I see to find my place in Your design
Like every sunset brings another sunrise and every winter fades away
Into the spring- coz thereâ€™s a whole new world each day,
Thereâ€™s a whole new world in me

So when I open up my eyes Iâ€™ll sing to you
The wonder of the world renewed each morning
For each breath of life Iâ€™ll sing to you
Thereâ€™s something new to see in every dawning
Iâ€™ll praise in my own way, for Your light shines on every day
And Iâ€™m learning how to see all Your miracles unfold

And with the rising sun my soul has wings
Iâ€™m grateful for this chance youâ€™ve given me
To lift up my own life in harmony
To join as one with love all of creations
Singing for eternity, reflecting your glory
And Iâ€™m learning how to see all Your miracles unfold

Like every sunset brings another sunrise and every winter fades away
Into the spring and thereâ€™s a whole new world each day
Thereâ€™s a whole new world in me

So when I open up my eyes Iâ€™ll sing to you...
