Break The Sky

The Hush Sound

Wait, our day's lost
Holding you down
You look for me
But I won't be found
The bluebirds flutter in my chest
Oh, they want to sing
You'll have to break me open
To hear anything
Before the world dies at my door
I'll break the sky for you and I are going nowhere
Kiss goodbye a dozen times before we get there
Why do I need anyone else
When I can break the sky myself?
Won't be haunted by dreams I've deferred
Won't set my heart, be frozen in ember
The love you always seem to find, see that be sweet
One taste and you've made up your mind, do you like to eat?
Before the world dies at my door
I'll break the sky for you and I are going nowhere
Kiss goodbye a dozen times before we get there
Why do I need anyone else
When I can break the sky myself?
Fear will hold you back
If you believe in that
Fear will hold you back
If you believe in that
Fear will hold you back
(Fear will hold you back)
If you believe in that
(If you believe in that)
Fear will hold you back
(Fear will hold you back)
If you believe in that
I'll break the sky for you and I are going nowhere
Kiss goodbye a dozen times before we get there
Why do I need anyone else?
Why do I need anyone?
I'll break the sky for you and I are going nowhere
Kiss goodbye a dozen times before we get there

Why do I need anyone else
When I can break the sky myself?
