

Balance

Kashba

Our differences set us apart... they can't bind me
Our hearts have been equivalent from the start... if only
 I spoke these words at the right time
 At a loss for words to build the right line

 Reflect a traitor to make my mind cry open
 Behave ... like gentlemen ... like proper men we dive in
 Live... you'll be the proof of my existence
 My pride my dreams
 They all belong just to me

So alive we coexist .. so envious .. we pray for this

 Listen to my story .. this may be our last chance
 People die and people dance

 Reflect a traitor to make my mind cry open
 Behave ... like gentlemen ... like proper men we dive in
 Live... you'll be the proof of my existence
 My pride and dreams
 They all belong just to me

So alive we coexist .. so envious .. we pray for this

 Listen to my story .. this may be our last chance
 People die and people dance
