Paradise

MÃ¥ns ZelmerlÃ¶w

Violently, falling for destiny
It should be you and me
Riding the horizons
Invisibly, creating a harmony
A path for you and me
The world at our feet

So come fly
Welcome to my paradise
Where the heaven ends,
That's where love begins
And don't cry
Welcome to my paradise
Feel your loving grace
In your warm embrace

I believe I was destined to be with you
To fight for you
To die for you
Reminding me
Will you set me free?
Your love is mine to keep
I'll never loose you

So come fly
Welcome to my paradise
Where the heaven ends,
That's where love begins
And don't cry
Welcome to my paradise
Feel your loving grace
In your warm embrace

As the river flows through land
As the water glows in sun
That's how far that we have come

So come and let us fly!
Welcome to my paradise
Where the heaven ends,

That's where love begins!
And don't cry
Welcome to my paradise
(Feel your loving grace)
Feel your loving grace
(Feel your loving grace)
And your warm embrace
(Come fly, welcome to my paradise)
(Where the heaven ends)
(Where the heaven ends)
(That's where love begins)
(And don't cry, welcome to my paradise)
(Feel your loving grace)
(In your warm embrace)
Paradise
