Never Been Sold Before

Alice Cooper

You ask me, babe
"Can you work tonight?"
I've been up, babe
Since broad daylight
I just can't believe that you're selling me
You never sold me before
I just can't become your lousy whore
Oh yeah, I'm stacked nice
They really like my style
Fifty bucks, babe
Can't even buy my smile
I just can't believe that you're selling me
You never sold me before
I just can't become your lousy whore
I find I come around just to Lay this money on you, babe
I'm sick of streets, chicks and dicks
And I'm, I'm really sick of you
Oh oh, I've never been sold before
And I'll never be had again
Oh oh, I've never been sold before
And I'll never be had again
I just can't believe that you're selling me
You never sold me before
I just can't become your little whore
No, no, no, no
I've never been sold before
And I'll never be had again
Oh oh, I've never been sold before
And I'll never be had again
Oh oh, I've never been sold before
And I'll never be had again
Oh oh, I've never been sold before
And I'll never be had again
Oh oh, I've never been sold before
And I'll never be had again
Oh oh, I've never been sold before
And I'll never be had again
