

Lay Down Your Arms

Flowers From the Man Who Shot Your Cousin

Your words are quick, and they cut so deep
The walls go up, waiting here, wishing here, wishing here, waiting
You forget I know your tender spots, I can hurt you too,

Chorus:

But I'm the one loving you, so come on and love me

Lay down your arms

Why'd you want to go

Lay down, down, down, down

Lay down your arms

And shoot love to the ground

Lay down, down, down, down

Lay with me

Don't want to tear our love apart, I want to give my heart
So close then the moment's shattered, like nothing mattered

Pushing me, pulling you, pulling me, pushing

Can't we start living here, giving

Chorus

(repeat chorus) So we are in love, so we are at war

But we can be on the same side
