Beyond My Destiny

Brainstorm

Between love and hate!
Borders slowly dissolve and somewhere down the line you forget about love and hate.The doors are locked, try to get in,
the inner evil always will win, my tools with me,
a simple plan,
can't understand you'd used the manno suffering with my tongue inside, a torture with a slow decay in the night, electrified, just fade away, nobody ever get's in my waywhen will we be together, side by side... time to start the feeding it still bites, bites you and meBeyond my destiny, beyond, now suffering,
too far, but my love is realI'm trying not to get out of bed, depression, someone tell me wether I'm dead I dare you to cross this line, I always dared you, but now you're mineno one can see you , no one will know, sinking to an all-time..., all time low I'm crucified, and years gone by when damage has been done, another lifeand still we are together, side by side can even taste the bleeding, it still shines, shines on you and meyou will never give up you will never give in give back my ticket another ride begins
