Not Another Love Song

Paulini Every station that I turn to, another song, another heartache
Why does everybody sing about messed up mistakes? I've turned it down, but I can't drown it out
Sometimes it seems like all I ever hear about
Love is acting shady, and it makes me crazy
Another anthem with no answer, why can't we get along? I don't want another love song
About how somebody did somebody wrong
I don't need another soundtrack
About the one who got away and won't come back
I don't need another sad song
About perfect love that's come and gone
Just need a melody to keep me company
While I drink away your memories
I don't need another love song
Certain days, you just want harmony on your radio
I turn on my stereo and it reminds me of someone I used to know, oh I've turned it down, but I can't drown it out
Sometimes it seems like all I ever hear about
A world full of fakers and cold heart breakers
Another anthem with no answer, why can't we get along? I don't want another love song
About how somebody did somebody wrong
I don't need another soundtrack
About the one who got away and won't come back
I don't need another sad song
About perfect love that's come and gone
Just need a melody to keep me company
While I drink away your memories
I don't need another love song No I don't need another love song, no
I don't need another love song, no
Hey, I don't need another love song, no, hey
I don't want another love song
About how somebody did somebody wrong
I don't need another soundtrack
About the one who got away and won't come back
I don't need another sad song
About perfect love that's come and gone
Just need a melody to keep me company
While I drink away your memories
I don't need another love song Oh, I don't need another song
I don't need another love song baby

Why do they keep on playing the same old love song?

Haha, it's the same old, same ol
