

One In A Million

Bodyjar

Sometimes when I'm driving in my car
I wish that you could take the wheel
But you're not there, It's so unfair
What if I hit that dog again? Sometimes when I'm lying in my bed
I let these voices in my head
Influence me, to some degree
Now I'm not sure of anything I wish you knew what I was thinking of (Can't believe what I've been thinking of) They told me to breathe
They told me to lie down
I figured it out, you're one in a million
'cause I'm writing the words down
I figure my chances are one in a million And I don't know why, and I don't know where to begin Sometimes when I'm running out of cash
I'll jump a taxi in a flash
I know it's wrong his light was on
And I just had to get to you Sometimes when I'm talking on the phone
I get advice from the dial tone
It's nothing new
And I'm confused, I know I'm losing my mind
