Safety

Trapdoor Social

Far past our expiration
Just how could anyone
Be so cold now
To the ones they loved
And then they left to turn back
What I'd do to get you back
But I'm suspended now
Until comes the thawNo one's coming back
And no one is safe
The lights are fading fast
All I see is your face
And It makes me want to last
And make it through to safety
But time is running out
We won't live through the nightIt's in the dead of winter
That the floor beams splinter
Our weight is just too much
As we pace across
And the air is far too cold
The gauge is much too low
I think that each of us knows
That we're all alone
