

As Your Friend (ESRR Edit) [feat. Chris Brown]

Afrojack

I just can't live anymore like this
My heart just opened up the door again
Just watch me fly as I spread my wings
Don't ask me why 'cause there are too many things. And now we're standing on the edge
Looking like here we go again
It used to be old me but today
I woke up as your friend As your friend, as your friend, as your friend
I woke up as your friend,
As your friend, as your friend,
I woke up as your friend Oh lil' mama, I can feel your fire
You poisonous lady, let me take you higher
And I don't care if it's a bad time
Just label me the bad guy tonight
And now we're standing on the edge
Looking like here we go again
I used to be your man but today
I woke up as your friend I came to party hoping that you would fall in love
Don't mean to put no pressure on you
Everybody loving madly
And the DJ, he's getting drunk
Trying to get next to you And now we're standing on the edge
Looking like here we go again
I used to be your man but today
I woke up as your friend As your friend, as your friend, as your friend
I woke up as your friend
As your friend, as your friend
I woke up, I woke up as your friend
As your friend, as your friend, as your friend
As your friend, as your friend, as your friend
I woke up as your friend I'mma fuck that pussy
I'mma fuck that pussy
I'mma fuck that pussy And now we're standing on the edge
Looking like here we go again
I used to be your man but today
I woke up as your friend I'mma fuck that pussy
I'mma fuck that pussy
I'mma fuck that pussy
