Love Cries

Stage Dolls

(T. Flakne/B. Icon)
As she drives, through the town where she once, played around in these streets oh memories, are what's left here little note, on her bed just some words, that leave it all unsaid oh Mama don't you cry
hey Papa don't ask why
Love cries, love burns
love drives you, to the point of no return love lies, love burns
love drives you, to the point of no return Restless boy, took her heart like a toy, he tore it all apart in her mind, she'll never love again with the wind, in her hair she stops and says a little prayer
love drives you, to the point of no return Under a purple sky
she turns her head, and says goodbye
Love cries, love burns
