

Victim of a Foolish Heart

Joss Stone

Your scars were still showing
When I first met you baby
From all the wrong she had done to you
Then I came along and applied a little lovin'
Slowly but surely I brought you through Now she's back to rekindle that old flame
She's got a different angle baby
But she's playing the same old game Baby don't be a victim of a foolish heart
Don't let her lies get next to you
She's just tryin' to tear us apart
She's tryin' to make me her victim too Now I know she comes around here every time I leave
(Look out baby)
Because she knows she's still on your mind Even a wise man jumps in misery somewhere down the line
(Listen Baby)
But only a fool would jump the second time Our affair is growing stronger everyday
Don't let her come and steal our happiness away Baby don't be a victim of a foolish heart
Don't let her lies get next to you
She's just tryin' to tear us apart
She's tryin' to make me her victim too Baby don't be a victim of a foolish heart
Don't let her lies get next to you
She's just tryin' to tear us apart
She's tryin' to make me her victim too
