

Girl Like You

Serial Joe

I could tell you the things
That you wanna hear
How youre pretty blue eyes shine
How I want to hold you tightBut youd see through my disguise
The sun will shine
And the moon will rise tonight
And everything will be all right, will be all rightIf you only knew
How much Id do, to be with you
If you only knew
How much I need a girl like youI could make up stories, fill your head with lies
I could do almost anything but I think youd realize
That everything will be all right, will be all rightIf you only knew
How much Id do, to be with you
If you only knew
How much I need a girl like youIf you only knew
How much Id do, to be with you
If you only knew
How much I need a girl like youIf you only knew
How much Id do, to be with you
If you only knew
How much I need a girl like you
