

Parallel

Heffron Drive

Counting stars, laying in the grass
Side by side, your head in my shoulder
We talk a lot about nothing much,
With every breath we are getting closer

Parallel in this universe
Do we light up our hearts just to watch 'em burn?
Parallel, I will cross the lines.
Cause maybe tonight

The stars align!
The stars align!

What if the one who was meant for you,
Was all along right in front of you
Just didn't see it, it was there all the time
Yeah, feel it tonight, yeah

The stars align!
The stars align!

I take the thoughts out of your mind
And put the pieces into my puzzle
Everything I wanna say about you
Is more than enough to write a novel

Parallel in this universe
Do we light up our hearts just to watch 'em burn?
Parallel, I will cross the lines. (Cause I'm gonna put your hands up)
Cause maybe tonight

The stars align!
The stars align!

What if the one who was meant for you,
Was all along right in front of you
Just didn't see it, it was there all the time
Yeah, feel it tonight, yeah

The stars align!

Like rope around, around the moon,
Weâ€™re pulling close whatever it takes to be with you
Maybe tonight
Maybe tonight the stars align.
The stars align!

What if the one who was meant for you,
Was all along right in front of you
Just didnâ€™t see it, it was there all the time
Yeah, feel it tonight, yeah

The stars align!
The stars align!
The stars align!
