Majestic Beast

Amorphis

In the bowels of rocky mountain
A fiery bird I forged
Forged from iron, from molten steel
A flaming eagle, majestic beastOn the wings of my eagle
To black river I flew
To the dale of the dead
To the stream that grinds all fleshThe eagle soared sky high
Touched the vault of heaven
The sky sparkled, cracked and creakedThe eagle soared sky high
Soared my flaming griffin
The thunder crashed and rolled
Rolled the monster's headI found a monster, a black giant pike
From its jaws my eagle saved me
Dragged the fish under the sun
Split its belly, ripped the head offI rolled the pike's head to the house of the north
I threw the bony skull at the haughty queen
Here's a throne for you to rest your frozen bones
I have done my share, now keep your promiseI had made the heavens, forged out a miracle
The snake infested field of death turned over
Slayed the wolf of shadow landsShackled the bear of death
I captured the impossible
The pike from the black river
