Hey you not so fast, turn around
I'm not done talking to youI shoulda pressed pause when I had the chance
I'm past the point, don't understand
How everything works
Why everything hurts, so bad
You'll never know I'm feeling[Chorus]
Like a baby
In a cradle
Tired of crying
But I'm okay now
Like a junkie
With a needle
Tired of trying
To get myself out
There's nothing left
Nothing more
What's it all been for
Now I'm undressed, defenselessI think I'm finally rawIt's really none of your business
Who I wanna call
I'm not as naive as I used to be
We both know its all your fault
The more that you talk I wanna shut your mouth
And I just forgot what you're talking about
I'm done with the dream
I know what I mean
I can't go back to my pretending[Chorus]I think I'm finally, stripped of everything you thought that I was made of Stripped of all that's hidden underneath my make-up
And now the only thing to do is start the healing
And let myself feel the emptiness I'm feeling
I'm call cried out[Chorus]I think I'm finally rawSubmitted by: Jim P.
