

One Light, One Mind

RKL

It's all happenin' all around,
A peoples celebration coming down.
A movement big enough to split the world in half right now,
Without a sound.
`Cause we don't want to live abused,
By theories that all faith has fallen through.
We can live in happiness,
At peace with God, deny the rest.
Love what little earth is left and go on with life and do our best.
To see through the lies that get us down below,
We will rise together for a better world we all will know.
And you can try and tell us that the
Government can take away our rights.
And you can say kill or be killed,
But thoughts like that won't manifest our minds.
You know it's right deep down inside.
Why can't we get it right?
Balance the symptoms that plague our lives,
With hatred and greed all the money that we show.
When one mind will destine where all of us are gonna go!
One Light, One Mind
??We'll do just fine??
Why can't we get it right?
Balance the symptoms that plague our lives
With hatred and greed all the money that we show
When one mind will destine where all of us are gonna go!
