

Silhouette

Thrice

Your eyes followed me here
Your eyes, seamless and sure
They leave me broken and
In need of a cure Your eyes followed me here
Your eyes, sifting my soul
They leave me broken hands
Forge diamonds from the coal They lace me along
Infinite synapse of white lines
Then chasing the dawn
Story book syntax
Your eyes
Slit the throat
Of all I know
About myself and this life
Silhouette lies And your eyes, speaking in tongues
Vigilant still filling my lungs
Testing my will They leave me broken and
Bruised and bleeding
Your eyes resting in flame
Leave me breathless again Like hydrogen
Spread on fault lines
Or dead, kissing them with
Exposure to radon
Your eyes
Slit the throat
Of all I know
About myself and this life
Silhouette lies Your eyes
Your eyes
Speaking in tongues
Vigilant still lead our way Your eyes (They leave me broken and)
Your eyes (Bruised and bleeding)
Filling my lungs
Testing my will You slit the throat
Of all I know
About myself and this life
Silhouette lies You slit my throat
'Cause I know
That this life

Is a lie
So slit my throat.
