What Is Light? Where is Laughter?

Twin Atlantic

I cut my lip on broken bone
And who you are, isn't what you own,

It pierced the skin it's ripping through
To my heart because of you

What is light where is laughter
I'm confused and the sky is getting heavy tonight
You'll never know you know tonight

What is music where is happiness result
Please don't let it rain tonight
Well never know over and over and over and out

Step in from the darkness is this what you came for?
What you came for? I will be your lantern is this what you came for

Paranoid heart attack is there the reason you can't relax
Clean up the blood it's sipping through
Into my lungs because of you

What is light where is laughter
I'm confused and the sky is getting heavy tonight
You'll never know you know tonight

Want it? Well if it's what you wanted.
Take it and hold on to it till you own it.
Well if it's what you wanted

Step in from the darkness is this what you came for?
What you came for? I will be your lantern is this what you came for?
