

Another Life

Bobby Valentino

I'll guess I'll meet you in another life
You're so fine, wish you were mine, tender homie
I'll guess I'll meet you in another life We shared little time, I caught your eyes
And you get to know me
I'll guess I'll meet you in another life Lady, what's your phone number?
That's the question I have for you
Babe, where you're headin' to?
'Cause I would like to follow you I can't believe it, can't believe that I was so far away
You was rushin', turned around and blushed and
You were going away I'll guess I'll meet you in another life
You're so fine, wish you were mine, tender homie
I'll guess I'll meet you in another life We shared little time, I caught your eyes
And you get to know me
I'll guess I'll meet you in another life I wonder are you from here?
'Cause I really want to run into you, again
Thoughts, keep running through my mind
What do I do to make this thing? I wish you could throw me a favor
Come back to the mall, girl
And let me give you, my info
And you can call me if you want to
I hope I'll see you out again I'll guess I'll meet you in another life
You're so fine, wish you were mine, tender homie
I'll guess I'll meet you in another life We shared little time, I caught your eyes
And you get to know me
I'll guess I'll meet you in another life I'll guess I'll meet you in another life
You're so fine, wish you were mine, tender homie
I'll guess I'll meet you in another life We shared little time, I caught your eyes
And you get to know me
I'll guess I'll meet you in another life
