

The World to Me

By a Thread

Sunday morning I'm confined
But the last time I could understand
    What's left in me? I don't know
    But I wanted to be there tonight
        Holding on I fall
I discovered you in the mess of things
    When silence was my only friend
Watch the sky turn red as I look into your eyes you're gone
    Days go by too quickly to fast I can't count
And I'll reach for you my love but I'm confined to my suffering
    Seems so far away but I want to be there tonight
        Holding on I fall
    Days go by too quickly too fast I can't count
And I'll reach for you my love but I'm confined to my suffering
