

Electric Bloom

Foals

This is a warning shot
Your final call
An empty morgue
With gurning heartsHollowed crowns
And all I see
Is marching bands
Is marching bandsMarching bands
Which never rest
In broken standsButcher birds
With useless throats
With useless throatsWe're not safe
Of dying kings
With plastic knivesIt's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just another
It's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just anotherIt's just another hospital
It's just another hospital
It's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just anotherCaptains made
With metal tags
Flags brought down
Of hollowed crownsIt's everything
Without a time
It's just a
It's just aIt's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just another
It's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just anotherGoodbye all
Your marching bands
Laid to rest
In broken standsButcher birds
Will fly away
Will fly away
Will fly awayThis is not
A warning call
Your final shotAll I see
Is butcher birds
Will fly away
Electric bloomIt's just another hospital

It's just another, it's just another
It's just another hospital
It's just another, it's just another
