Motherless Children

Eric Clapton

Motherless children have a hard time when mother is dead Lord
Motherless children have a hard time when mother is dead Lord
They don't have anywhere to go, wondering around from door to door
Nobody treats you like a mother will when your mother is dead LordFather will do best the can when your mother is dead Lord
Father will do best the can when your mother is dead Lord
Father will do best the can, so many things a father can't understand
Nobody treats you like a mother will when your mother is dead LordSister will do the best she can when your mother is dead Lord
Sister will do the best she can when your mother is dead Lord
Sister will do the best she can, so many things a sister can't understandNobody treats you like a mother will when your mother is dead
When your mother is dead, when your mother is dead
When your mother is dead Lord, when your mother is dead
Mother is dead, mother is dead, mother is dead
