The Fallen

Crematory

Newborn from fire and ashes
Dwelled with the storm and the wind
He fought with courage and vigor
Determined to step up to, up to loveFall away, fall behind, fall into
Fall back, fall down
Fall away, fall behind, fall into
Fall back, fall downCaught in a building of cages
Life turned away from reality
He feels no inside or outside
Soulless waiting for the endFall away, fall behind, fall into
Fall back, fall down
Fall away, fall behind, fall into
Fall back, fall downLife thrown away and unredeemed
Covered by the fear of truth
Marred and disenchanted by many tales
Shred from juicy meat
Glorified as king and master
Tied and gagged as thief and murdererFall away, fall behind, fall into
Fall back, fall down
Fall away, fall behind, fall into
Fall back, fall down
